Thanks for sharing: as always, very interesting. Happy 2017 as well!

> Despite the proliferation of “read later” services and Instapaper premium features recently becoming free, Pinboard remains both my primary bookmarking platform and my “read later” workflow.

I'd love if you could share more about your pinboard workflow, including "read later" functionality. I'm currently struggling using both Pinboard and Instapaper at the same time and I end up never knowing where to pin something or where I pinned something...

Thanks!

Spillo is the key factor for me with Read Later stuff. There are iOS apps that can serve the purpose as well. Spillo can present my saved articles in an RSS reader type layout, and makes it easy to mark read/unread with keyboard shortcuts.
